

Get Accredited

Our Accreditation days are a simple and cost effective induction into using the C-me profiling tool. They are all about equipping you to confidently apply your learning in your situation.

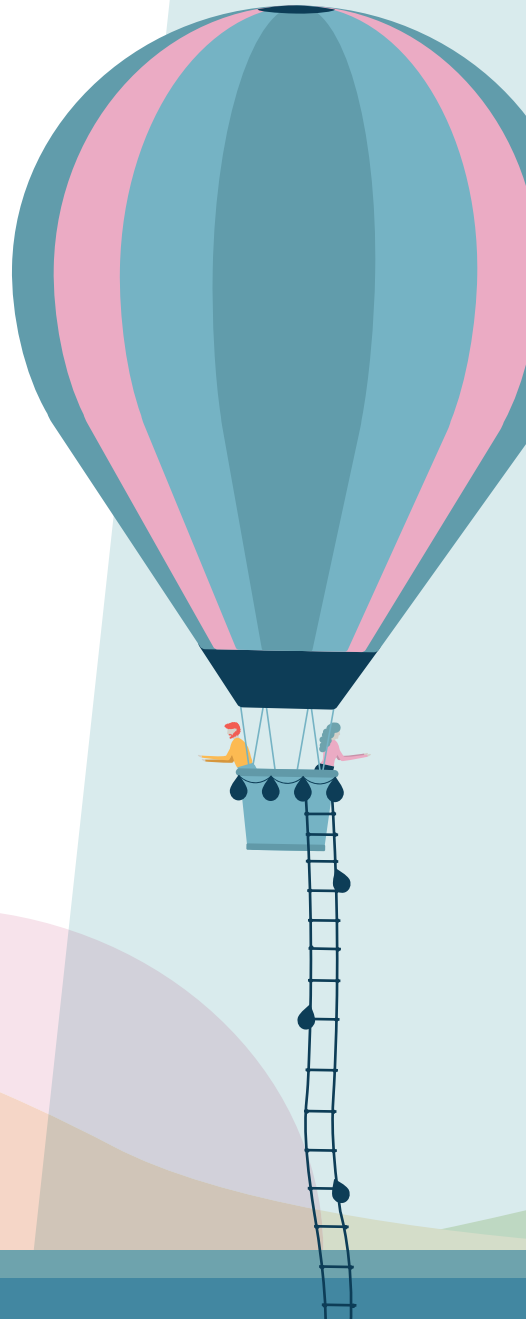

You could be an independent learning and development practitioner, a coach, a consultant or someone with in-house HR or development responsibility.

Most of our Accreditation events take place at Waterhouse, our picturesque training venue just outside Bath. Enjoy getting away from it all for a day or to make the most of your time, we'd encourage you to take advantage of our onsite accommodation.

The Accreditation was fantastic fun, really informative and it was great to have the opportunity to have powerful discussions with others in the group.

Sean Marcs,
Learning and Development
Business Partner, Virgin Active

In-house

As an In-house C-me Accredited Practitioner, you can enjoy the benefits of discounts on bulk purchases of profiles, bespoke solutions to gain maximum value from reports and access to further in-depth Masterclasses.

A confident application of C-me can help you build high performing teams, develop a thriving company culture built on real understanding, apply a knowledgeable talent strategy and improve retention rates.

Independent

As an Independent C-me Accredited Practitioner, you can enjoy the benefits of discounts on profile reports and further Masterclasses, access to marketing support and invites to our 'Activators' networking and community events.

The team at C-me are on hand to help you get started on your journey, making it as easy and flexible as possible to add value to your offering.

Check our News and Events page at www.colour-profiling.com for upcoming accreditation dates or please get in touch at contact@colour-profiling.com

